

Giving Catalog Coloring Activity

No matter how small, each piece of the puzzle contributes to the overall picture.

This coloring activity is a fun way to help children explore their creativity and learn about a few of the items in the Presbyterian Giving Catalog. The Giving Catalog is a helpful resource that can be used to teach about the impact sustainable gifts, no matter how small, can make in the life of another. By learning about the act of giving, children begin to understand how they can make a difference in the world.

Directions

First, you'll need a copy of the Presbyterian Giving Catalog. You can download a PDF or order printed copies using the QR code above or visiting presbyteriangifts.org/giving-catalog. Once you have a Giving Catalog in hand, find the item featured on each coloring sheet. Discuss why this item is so important and the impact that it can have on families and communities around the world. Talk about the hope and joy that items such as animals and seeds can bring to those in need.

Use the same color or pattern in each section labeled with the same number. Encourage the children to use their imagination, adding colors and patterns as they finish each sheet. And have the children explore the Giving Catalog to find other items they are curious about.

Take a picture of the finished coloring sheet and post it on social media as a great way to share the message of generosity.
